

ATTACK OF THE SWAMP PEOPLE

A 2014 CAMP BARTON PREMIER

STAFF YEARBOOK

Dedication

W

e dedicate this yearbook to Judy, Otis, Francis, and all the other traffic cones in camp. In past lifetimes they had no home, nor purpose. Throughout the years we have collected a family of them to help us out here at Camp Barton. Using them to stop people driving up the hill to using them as Christmas in July presents, they have always been there for Camp Barton. Sometimes they can cause just as much mischief as the staff members. And they are very photogenic.

They bring life to our camp, without them we wouldn't know what to do. They love to socialize and live among the other staff members. They protect us from danger and reflect light to know where we are going. So as a Camp Barton Staff we would like to thank the traffic cones we would be lost without you.

Shhhh...! You never saw us!

PROGRAM

From Trading Post to Program Director makes for a very interesting summer. It has been amazing to actually be able to go around and visit each department in a new way. Learning a lot more about what each department does and how they work. I'm proud of this Camp Barton Staff. We are a family with both sides, sometimes we love each other and sometime we don't. Now I'm not much of a sap sooooooo NEXT!!!

Here what I really learned about being Program Director:

I am a therapist to everyone staff, scouts, and scout leaders.

Radios are my worst enemy.

Money is not my problem anymore.

The meaning of sleep is non-existent.

If you have no voice, keep going.

When you do Arky Arky expect dry heaving.

I have to ask permission to go have Beverages.

Tape and Staplers are floating materials.

Expect everything to happen.

2014 Theme Attack of the Swamp People

This theme was made by our great past Program Director Jeff Andrews. Mostly I kept it as it was written, but I did change a few things. More characters the Professor and Slick and Slime. As the weeks went by the story became less and the crazy became more. Beards that have forks, princess flashlights of mass destruction, and giraffe became a main character. Let's not forget the simplest costumes ripped shorts and mud....tada.

2015 Theme hopefully can happen. The idea for next year is.....

Red Queen Vs. Mad Hatter

Another wonderful summer is about to come to an end at Camp Barton. The job of commissioner was both rewarding and challenging with juggling the many different duties. Thank you to Ed Lake and Mike Stole for all of your support as volunteer commissioners and to the many Troop Leaders that helped out with inspections. You are truly appreciated.

2014 CIT'S were awesome!!!! Thank you all for your hard work.
We're looking forward to you being on staff next year.

Zachary Carr, Robert Burns, Griffin O'Donnell,
Richard Moore, Conner Lake, Devon Klutch, Liam Stark,
Cody Coombs, & Cory Coombs

We couldn't do it without our volunteers!
Thanks to all of you.

Jeff Andrews, John Vorstadt, Ryley Jeffrey,

Scoutmaster Fun

Sausage was everywhere on Friday during the Scoutmaster Dunderback Challenge. I never knew there were so many ways to make it. We're not sure where the meat came from rats, cats or dogs but we all enjoyed it. Taste and scout spirit were the main part of the competition but the creativity was amazing. With sausage being presented as "The Dave", Served by unusual Waitresses, Atomic Buffalo Turds and Armadillo eggs (Troop 13 tradition) and Maple Bacon wrapped sausage. The judges including the camp nurse(just in case we needed her) never needed to eat the Friday hot dogs lunch. OOH It's So Good!!!

As we move on to our individual lives we will always remember our Camp Barton Family.
The fun, laughs, and even the drama will be a part of our lives forever.
Moving forward only to see what 2015 will bring.

Diane Blakely
2014 Commissioner

NATURE

NATURE ASSEMBLE!

Emerging from a battle with the knotweed comes the Nature Department. They are led by their fearless leader Greg O'Connor, known as Thor. To assert his dominance, he summons raging thunderstorms about once a week. Saint, the second in command, is a top class secret agent with a deadly bite and a lethal sting. He goes by the code name Black Widow. Ben Stewart, an agent who trained with the guidance of Black Widow and Thor, took the name Hawkeye. He uses his high intelligence to make chemical and nuclear arrows. Returning to the team are former members Kory Ellis and Mike McDonough. Kory, also known as Iron Man, made a suit of armor to combat the hostile showerhouse and is currently trying to outlast his own crazy. Mike is known as The Hulk. He is a genius but has a dark side which causes him to rage and destroy, becoming more of a problem than normal. Finishing off the team is the newcomer, Evan Graney. With a voice as deep as Greg's thunder and muscles nearly as big as Mike, he goes by the name Captain America. The team has had SHIELD Agents try to help, but to no avail. We take a moment to honor the fallen comrades Zach, Liam, Griffen, and Cody, they fought bravely against the knot weed but they were consumed. Normally the nature men are lone wolves, preferring to handle what burdens they can and fight their own battles. However, our fearless warriors have come together to take on such enemies as the villainous Midnight Lasher, who kills our nature as much as possible, or the greatest Super Smash Brothers Melee character ever, the extremely powerful and awesome Ganondorf. But the team is still fighting the hardest battle against the destructive and all consuming knotweed. The knotweed is the greatest enemy the Nature Department has ever faced and is nearly unbeatable. This does not stop our heroes, but keeps them going in order to preserve the camp. Our excellent men endure all from a lack of supplies to unruly scouts to awful hikes in the name of the Ecology and Conservation Department. Each member steps up to answer the call: NATURE ASSEMBLE!

OUTDOOR SKILLS

Trouble was brewing in the Don Worden Realm; The Mad King Alex O'Brian was residing on his dovetailed throne. Alex Lord of the Woodsmen walked into the hall.

"Your Grace, trouble is brewing on the Western shore. The pirates are mustering their ranks, and sharpening their oars. The scurvy bastards will be on us within the next full moon. Your Grace, are you listening?"

"What we need is more c c c c candy."

"Your Grace, may I remind you that the bamboo bandits are already on Frontenac road, and the dwarves of handicraft are forging their hammers. We need to take immediate action for the seven departments are converging on the Don Worden Realm, and all you can talk about is, candy?"

The Mad King looked down, and muttered candy one last time then shut his eyes for good. Alex Lord of the Woodsman slid the old king off the throne, took his crown, and paint stick, he was King regent for now, but that was all the time he needed.

OUTDOOR SKILLS

OUTDOOR SKILLS

The Midnight Lasher looked upon the Bamboo Bandit Encampment. He tightened his coils, and put a hood over his head. This would be the last of the Bamboo Bandits mischief.

Ser Chris Lango, Lord of Sydney Winterfell and slayer of first year campers paced around his solar thinking how he may appease the new King of the Don Worden Realm.

Ser Olbrys walked in then.

"My Lord, I hope I'm not interrupting anything."

"No, not at all, let us take a walk."

Ser Lango galloped to the door Clippity Clop Clippity Clop Clippity Clop.

"What is it my Lord?"

"I think you would be better suited in the trading ports of the West. We already have a trade set up with Eli the sellsword. Today is your last day. Thank you for your service."

The day of battle was about to begin, Alex was mustering his woodsmen.

"Men of the Wood prepare yourselves for war, today is the day of bloodshed and honor. You will perish, and dine with the upper lashing lords."

The six departments came upon them. The pirates from the lake, the dwarves from the athletics field, the pyromancers from across the river, and the bamboo bandits were all dead and scattered before they even set foot in the realm.

Durand the Dreadful was the first to strike in the fields of GaGa and slew Liam Stark, squire to King Alex. Durand the Dreadful was then slaughtered by Ser Chris, his blood pouring out as red as his hair.

The pyromancers then started setting fire to the woods, and Coleman the Courageous went in there with an Indian Hose to put it out, but he never returned.

The battle raged on for days, and it seemed that the GaGa ball would be the clear victor. King Alex was all bloodied and battered when he began to reach for his axe when he heard a soft bounce close in behind him...

Just then, as all hope seemed lost, Ser Ryley Jeffery and Lord Aidan Mackenzie rode in on their gallant lashed war machines, slaying the GaGa ball once and for all. The field was painted red with the blood of our foes. We lost many brave souls that fateful summer, but we will rise again, stronger and better prepared than ever before.

Editor's note:

Handicraft would like it noted that they are too distraught from the loss of Vincent to be up to writing anything for the yearbook.

ATHLETES

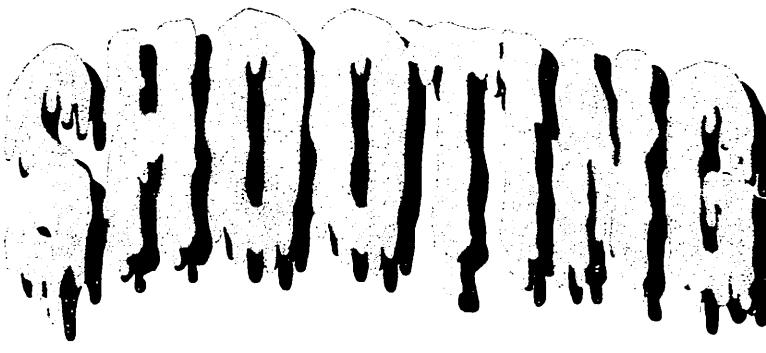

Dear Staff,

Good luck finding any balls after this summer. The GAGA ball ring seems to enjoy eating balls. I know two things you can find in my area... the "staff plague" and Alex Hamula. See y'all next summer

Love Chelsi Klutch

"Roses are Red
Violets are Blue
I have the Plague
And so do you!"

Welcome to the Shooting Sports page. Brian and Wyatt on the Rifle Range and Jake and Matt in Archery. We didn't get bogged down in the swamp because we were chooooting gators.

This being my 1st year on staff and as Shooting Sports Director it has been a learning experience and very interesting. As for me I have a dream job at camp, I GET TO SHOOT STUFF!!! When I was feeling sad I shot targets to cheer me up. When I was feeling happy I shot targets to be happier!! I love to make BOOM BOOM.

This is my 1st year on staff as a rifle range assistant, it has been a good learning experience and a good time. To pass time I enjoyed blowing stuff up and not a single can stands before my quake, I HIGHLY ENJOYED THE FREE AMMO!

Shooting sports wasn't always as calm and well behaved and not crazy there was a time when we were all more animal then human even. Brian our fearless leader was born in the Atlantic ocean while his parents were on a cruise. He was crawling around the ship one day but accidentally crawled off however he didn't sink he happened to land on an orca whale, now the whale didn't realize Brian was on her till she was very far away from the ship. The whale brought Brian back to her pod and they decided to raise him and care for him they taught him how to speak whale and live amongst them. One day Brian and his whale friend washed ashore Brian being as big and strong as he was then pushed the whale back to the ocean however people were here so the ambulance strapped him down and took him to the hospital. His family found and then he was raised to be human but some day he still longs to be with his whale family. Jake was found with African hippos for some reason they taught him how to sleep all day and wallow in the mud. One day poachers found him among the hippos and brought him back to their hut. They taught him English and the magic of coffee he was shipped to America after being taught how to shoot a bow and hunt he likes still to sleep all day and sometimes wallow in mud but he is much more human now. Wyatt was found in Siberia being raised by Russian wolves not much is known about Wyatt except that wolves raised him until the Russian army found him and trained him to kill. He moved to America and found a home by only the age of 14, Wyatt was trained to shoot, hunt and speak English but every so often he goes back to his old ways. Fishermen found Matt in the Arctic Ocean, he was found flying above a group of swimming penguins, so its safe to assume he was raised by penguins however he couldn't swim. The fishermen brought him aboard and eventually taught him how to swim, and using his knowledge of his penguin family he fished with his mouth. Matt eventually made his way to Barton by a lake shark.

TRADING POST

Trading Post

As I was walking in the forest.....a wild Eli Ford appeared! Then he used SLASH and got away. At the very next moment.....a wild Squidly appeared! He used CONFUSION but Gretchen beat him with LEER and she taught me how to use this skill, though the student cannot beat the master.

In all, this year was a good year. There were some ups and downs, but they were no match for a bit of encouragement and a lot of Billy Joel music. Luckily I had many friends that supported me #MikeyandGretchen. I am excited to see what next year has in store for me.

KITCHEN

This has been a summer where the Princess found not one, but four knights. They're not only strong, dependable, helpful and considerate, but also witty and great cooks. My thanks to Mark, Nick, Alex, and Sean.

This has been a terrific summer.

We may have run out of pots, and not had enough ovens- but you know what, we managed.

The dishwashers learned from King Dave to work quickly and together to get done before 10:30 pm. Great Job Guys!

John the Dining Hall Steward was awesome. Always getting 4's on the dining hall reviews.

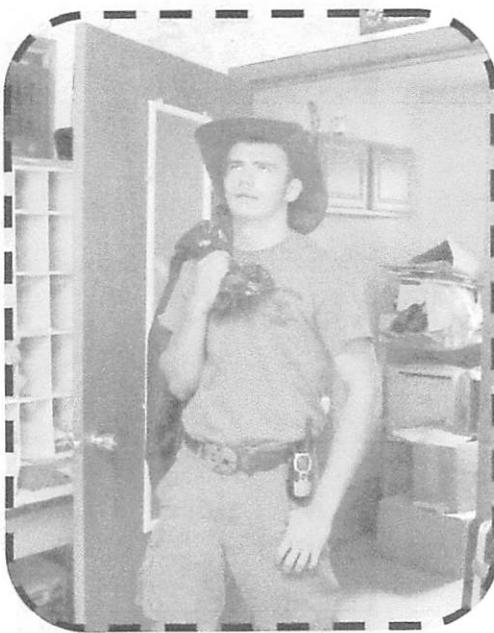

So the castle was filled with merriment and long live everyone in it!

The

2014 version of the Camp Barton Band reinforced the bands reputation as one of the most unique ensembles in all the Finger Lakes. Under the direction of the Drum Coordinator Mike McDonough and the Brass Caption Heads, Vincent Panuccia and Dylan Feliciano, this year's production of "Attack of the Swamp People" contained many of the same notes used in the scores of award winning musicals like Disney's "The Lion King", Cole Porter's classic "Anything Goes", "42nd Street", and the heart wrenching "Les Miserables". As Band Advisor Doug Blakely has been heard to comment: "We don't sound half bad, what's wrong with us?"
