DEDICATION

THIS YEAR, THERE WERE MANY ADMIRABLE STAFF WHO HAVE CONTRIBUTED SO MUCH TO THIS CAMP, NOT JUST THIS YEAR BUT THE MANY YEARS THAT THEY'VE BEEN HERE. EVERYONE'S HARD WORK HAS REALLY PAID OFF AND MADE THIS CAMP WHAT IT IS TODAY, AND THAT IS WHAT I BELIEVE TO BE THE BEST CAMP IN THE NATION. BUT ONE PERSON THAT STICKS OUT AS SHOWING IMMENSE DEDICATION, AND CONTINUED SERVICE TO THIS CAMP IS TIM SAYRES. TIM TOOK TIME OUT OF HIS WORK SCHEDULE NOT ONLY TO RUN THE HELMSMEN PROGRAM BUT TO GET THE CAMPS BOATS READY FOR THIS YEARS CAMPING SEASON. HE IS ALSO RESPONSIBLE FOR THE CAMP RECEIVING FOUR NEW BOATS TO OUR FLEET. A DAY SAILER, A LASER II, A SAILFISH AND A SUNFISH. HE ALSO SPENT QUITE A BIT OF TIME FIXING ALL OF OUR BOATS UP SO THAT OUR WATERFRONT COULD RUN AT 110% HE PUTS SO MUCH WORK AND TIME INTO THIS CAMP IT IS UNBELIEVABLE. SO THIS YEAR'S YEARBOOK IS DEDICATED TO TIM SAYRES FOR HIS UNYIELDING SERVICE AND THE INCREDIBLE AMOUNT OF TIME AND ENERGY HE SPENDS KEEPING OUR WATERFRONT "AFLOAT." GET IT? BECAUSE HE GOT US ALL THESE BOATS? YEAHHH. THANKS TIM!

ADMINISTRATION

HELLOOOOO STAFF!

I cannot thank you enough for your outstanding work this past summer. During Staff week, which may seem like a million years ago, we set up camp and went through hours of training. "WHAT! MORE TRAINING?!!!"

We emphasized customer service... treating scouts and leaders with respect and trying to make their visit to Camp Barton a memorable one. I would share with you each week the comments that Scout masters would say to me about the knowledge and professionalism the staff has and exhibits in their classes. All of you have done a tremendous job in class, providing each scout with a summer experience that will not soon be forgotten.

I believe theme went very well. It is inspiring to see how each week is slightly different as each of you tweak your part, making it better and better. Truly you all have the Camp Barton spirit... may it continue to grow in each of you.

The summer has flown by and boy scout camp is over. Some of you will be heading home to enjoy the rest of summer vacation before school starts. (Hopefully,) Theme for next year has been decided... it will be:

Star Wars

I hope that each of you were touched by the Barton family this year. This time is hard for some, since they may not be back next year due to other commitments. I can't thank you all enough for your devotion to the Camp that we all love. Consider completing and sending in your 2012 Staff Application early, and I will see you all next summer!

PROGRAM

So...this is my paragraph thingy. How am I doing so far? Yeah...that's what I figured...

Being that this was my first year ever at Camp Barton, I had quite a lot to learn and experience. I earned my first Barton B and got three, count 'em three segments. Nothing too special but I like to think it is. Chances are I lost the Sean vs. Sean competition but I can live with that. I'm just happy my poem won. I sat tower and got to watch idiotic scouts flip their sailboats over and got to go yell at canoe trips to stop messing around. I got to sit and load blocks for Diane, and "sacrifice" precious office time to help Gabe at the bouldering wall. I organized and reorganized everything in the administration /staff lounge I got to help Kathy teach First Aid on multiple occasions and taught communications for fifteen minutes every Friday. I was attacked by Sidney Winter kids when Nate informed them that I out of nowhere received a bleeding head wound. I learned what stag-horn sumac looks like and pissed Comisi off one way or another every week. I got thrown in the Lake once a week, cracked up at retreat and got yelled at by "a professional educator" scoutmaster for two hours about their scouts being slobs and getting a negative score for trash. I got the full Camp Barton experience, and needless to say it was awesome and these next forty-five weeks will be the most restful ones of my life in preparation for next year. Every compliment I received from scoutmasters rightly belongs to the wonderful staff. I just yell real loud, carry a clipboard, look important and deal with angry scoutmasters. You guys do all the real work.

Ladies, Gentlemen and Mikey, thanks for making me look so good. I can't wait until next year's "temporary" insanity.

Your somewhat adorable Program Director,

~Sean

COMMISSIONER

*T*his year the commissioner staff held an inquest to defend the city people of Bartropolis, home of the Barton 500. Now Bartropolis isn't the town it used to be. It used to be a place where children could roam freely and if you threw a stone you wouldn't be able to hit your neighbors front yard. This all changed when Billy Bob Hoobliboom decided that he wanted to take the money that he attained through selling his property and build a race track. Once he built the track the small town that was once known as Barton became the massive city now known as Bartropolis. The towns people didn't know what to make of the giant metropolis that was once their small town, where if you took two steps you would run into the person next to you. With a city's growth comes an increase in crime and so Bartropolis hired a commissioner to discourage against vandals and criminals. The commissioner feared that she wouldn't be able to take care of a city as large as Bartropolis by herself so she hired a few more to assist her in her quest. Yvonne, Doug, Mike, Nick, Chris, and Matt worked to maintain order and there were no incidents of wrong doing in Bartropolis for fear of the wrath of the commissioners. And while the people of Bartropolis are still getting used to the increased numbers in Bartropolis at least they know they need now fear vandals because the commissioner staff is there.

C.I.T.'S

THE SUMMER STARTED OFF WITH 10 STRONG AND COURAGEOUS CIT'S . WE HAD LARRY, THE LUDICROUS, MAX THE MAGNIFICENT, JASON THE JUST, JOSH THE JUBILANT, COREY THE COURAGEOUS, BEN THE BRAVE, ALEX THE AMAZING, AND TWO OTHER CIT'S THAT WOULD NOT LIKE THEIR NAMES MENTIONED.

AS THE WEEKS WORE ON AND AS THE SCOUTS POURED IN, THE CIT'S RANKS GREW WHETHER FROM FEAR OR DEATH. THE MORE THE WEEKS ROLLED ON THE LES CIT'S THERE WERE IN CAMP. # NATURE

After saving the world from the menace of the knotweed that had plagued us for so long, the Bamboo Bandits returned to Earth where they were instantly hailed as celebrities. After months of talk shows, advertising campaigns, presidential meetings, and even Jeopardy appearances, our heroes soared in popularity. However, this newfound popularity also drove a wedge between the once tight-knit clan. Adam Stewart, the leader of the expedition, informed the media that it was his superhuman knowledge of rocks, minerals, and the Earth that led to their victory. After hearing this, the remainder of the staff could not contain their outrage. Each argued for his own contributions to the success of the mission; it seemed like a mutiny was at hand. After much heated discussion, no definitive conclusion was reached, and the staff proceeded to split up... possibly for good.

Each member of the former organization spread out to a different corner of the globe. Living life on the edge, as usual, Adam decided to take a world tour and made it his mission to shaleboard down every single active volcano on the Ring of Fire, including an epic skiing trip to Mt. Fuji. Dan Comisi went on to become the Head of Operations for the cleanup of the BP oil spill and the revival of the environment that was destroyed by the leak, as well as the Project Manager of preventative measures. Tyler Foster decided to follow in the footsteps of his mentor, the great Dr. Evans, and became an internationally renowned herpetologist studying rare reptiles and amphibians from around the world. Turning to a more feral side, Greg O'Connor ventured deep into the woods, becoming a guardian of the forest and friend to the animals within, aiding lost travelers and exacting vengeance on those who sought to damage his home. Nate Mattingly was sent undercover to infiltrate the lair of the Midnight Lasher and actually became the Lasher's right-hand man, running one of his largest departments. Unfortunately for the rest of the Bandits, Nate could not be in contact with them in fear of blowing his cover.

NATURE

There were two other mysterious travelers in our story. One of them was a bird enthusiast and falconer, Ben Hamula. After years of studying bird behavior and being surrounded by his avian companions, he developed bird-like mannerisms and could be seen waking up early every morning to squawk at catbirds. The other traveler was born by the name of Nick Grantham, but went delusional after a close encounter with a cicada during a butterfly hunt gone wrong, and believes he is the president of a new Minecraft utopia. Going by the name of "Chico Suavé," he made it his life's mission to dig out a massive underground cavern beneath the Archaeology site. After amassing enough obsidian, he made an impenetrable fortress accessible only by a portal to the Nether. These two strange travelers would find their lives forever changed by a curious event late one autumn evening...

Hurtling through the sky, a ball of light was seen by each of our intrepid heroes. Adam saw what he believed to be a meteorite and was in hot pursuit. While running the night shift and skimming the ocean for oil, Comisi saw the object as well. Climbing to the top of his woodland fortress for a nap, Greg witnessed the descent of the shining object, and assumed the worst: that it was a threat to his beloved forest home, and sprinted at Mach 2 to prevent the destruction. Flying on the back of an eagle, Ben was nearly knocked out of the sky by it. Mining to the surface for the first time in decades, Chico saw this same strange object in the sky and chased after what he thought to be a UFO.

Once they reached the tree where it had landed, they were greeted by familiar faces as well as newcomers. Casting understanding glances at each other, they all began the ascent to the mysterious object. After climbing for what seemed like days, they reached the top of the gargantuan willow tree where they found a large model rocket precariously perched upon its peak. The rocket had a very familiar sign upon it; it was labeled with a raccoon. After explaining to the newcomers, everyone came to agreement that this rocket must have been sent by the long lost member of the Bamboo Bandits, Nate Mattingly. After disappearing for a while, he had finally resurfaced to send the Bamboo Bandits a warning. The message found inside the rocket read, "Help requested. Midnight Lasher has returned to destroy Nature Lodge. Must stop him before he becomes too powerful."

After hours of debate, a decision was reached. The members of the Bamboo Bandits decided to reunite and accept the newcomers into their secret circle. After the sacred initiation ceremony was completed, the strangers were taught the Bandit Code and the guerrilla warfare techniques that helped them defeat King Winter-Potter of the Knotweed Clan. The Bandits were now ready for their final assault: an attempt to defeat the Midnight Lasher once and for all and to save Nate from his evil clutches...

WATERFRONT

Waterfront is by far the best department at Camp Barton. Besides being the only ones to actually make a car for the racing theme, there were no major disasters even with the thousands of scouts that came down to see us every day. When we weren't staring at boats as scouts stupidly tried paddling back from Taughannock in thunderstorms, we spent a lot of quality time with the scouts playing our favorite game "no more bubbles."

The waterfront was led by the great Kevin Vorstadt and along with the assistance of Sir Andrew Durand and Skiff Captain Dave Campbell, nothing could stand in Waterfront's way. Scouts tried to come drown down at the lake, but the diligent eyes of Theo Moore, Cole Michael, Josh Shank, Ian Garnett, Mark Luzzi, and Dee and Carl Grantham prevented the scout's utter stupidity from developing into deadly chaos. Everyday the Waterfront spent countless hours pulling hopeless scouts out of the water because of their own stupidity. Somehow one scout even managed to strap his own arms inside of his PFD, making it a straightjacket rather than a life jacket. We have no idea how he managed this.

The elusive Carl Ekdaahl and the noble Tim Sayers both had great success in luring scouts away from Camp Barton to be dealt with more harshly than is allowed in front of the mustache of the camp director. The scouts managed to only break a couple of the jet skis, and the sailboats are still somehow in one piece because of the amazing teaching skills of Glorious Tim.

The numerous canoe and sailboat rescues may have put a strain on our bodies, but our spirits have never been broken and we will forever be the greatest staff to set foot on the shore of Cayuga Lake.

HANDICRAFT

Once again Handicraft has had a complete turnover in staff. New to the building this year was Zane "I hammer nails into dowels" Carter, Gareth "What did I do this time?" Jehu, and Gretchen "I am finally in a program area" Gross. Despite the fact that we are all new to this department, it did not take long for us to embrace the tradition of the Indian Stick battle against Scoutcraft, and perhaps even surpass them in sheer elaborate-ness. About half-way through the season, the building became invaded with an unusual amount of laptops, which added to our stereotypical state of slacking off, though Gretchen has still yet to use the "Handicraft Glasses" for their intended purpose. The other major distraction that the two instructors were inflicted with this summer was the over-abundance of Magic that was spreading throughout camp. Handicraft unfortunately became the epicenter of the Magic revival; at one point even hosting a game of extreme Magic in the rafters until Gretchen put a stop to it. This year we, in Handicraft also had the pleasure (and misfortune) of hosting several CIT's, including one of the "Super CIT's" Larry, Alex Plesnar, and Cory Ellis. Larry especially joined Gareth and Zane in the excessive amount of time that was spent in the rafters over the past 5 weeks. All in all it has been a very interesting summer, full of ridiculous shenanigans.

OUTDOOR SKILLS

SCOUTCRAFT

IN THE BEGINNING, SCOUTMAN CREATED CAMP BARTON. BARTON WAS COVERED IN KNOTWEED, AND THERE WASN'T MUCH TO IT.

THEN, SCOUTMAN SAID "LET THERE BE REVEILLE." AND SO, EVERYONE HAS A REASON TO GRUMBLE IN THE MORNING. REALIZING IT WAS DIFFICULT TO SLEEP WITH THE LIGHTS ON, TAPS WAS INVENTED NOT LONG AFTER. HEY, NOT TOO SHABBY, THOUGHT SCOUTMAN. AND SO, HE CAUGHT-ETH SOME Z'S.

THE NEXT DAY, SCOUTMAN THOUGHT HE'D KEEP WORKING ON THIS CAMP. "LET THERE BE WATERFRONT." SO CAYUGA LAKE ROSE OUT OF THE KNOTWEED, ALONG WITH ALL THE DUCKS, THE ZEBRA MUSSELS, AND LAKE SHARKS. IT TOOK A BIT LONGER THAN ANTICIPATED, SO SCOUTMAN WENT BACK TO BED.

ON THE THIRD DAY, SCOUTMAN SAID "LET THERE BE NAAAAAATURE!" AND SO ALL SORTS OF STRANGE CREATURES ROSE FROM THE KNOTWEED; BARN SWALLOWS AND SKUNKS, CHIPMUNKS AND ADAM STEWART ALL BECAME REGULAR RESIDENTS ON THE FINELY-FORMING CAMP. SCOUTMAN SAW THAT IT WAS GOOD. SCOUTMAN ALSO FELT PRETTY TIRED, BECAUSE THIS ISN'T REALLY EASY WORK.

THE FOURTH DAY BROUGHT PROJECTILES. THERE WERE SHOOTERS GOING TWANG, SHOOTERS GOING BANG, AND A FUNNY MAN NAMED GABE THAT JUST KEPT CLIMBING ON THINGS AND PLAYING BANJO, SOMETIMES AT THE SAME TIME. TO KEEP ALL THESE KOOKY THINGS IN LINE, THE ADMINISTRATION WAS CREATED.

THE FIFTH DAY, SCOUTMAN BREAKFASTED ON WOK-FRIED CINNAMON ROLLS AND COPIOUS AMOUNTS OF COFFEE. MAN, WHY DIDN'T I INVENT FOOD EARLIER? THOUGHT SCOUTMAN. AND SO KITCHEN STAFF BECAME SO, ALONG WITH THE HEALTH LODGE TO MEND SEVERED FINGERS FOR THE KITCHEN, AND THE GOOD RANGERS, WHO TRY IN VAIN TO FIX THINGS FASTER THAN CAMPER'S BREAK THEM. LASTLY, SCOUTMAN LET THERE BE THE TRADING POST, BECAUSE THE FIFTH DAY WAS REALLY HOT AND HE NEEDED A SLUSHIE.

ON THE SIXTH DAY, SCOUTMAN REALIZED THERE WAS STILL TONS OF STUFF TO DO. WE'RE GONNA NEED A QUARTERMASTER, HE THOUGHT. AND SO, THE QUARTERMASTER WAS LET THERE BE'D TO DO ANY JOB THAT HE COULDN'T FIGURE OUT WHO SHOULD REALLY DO IT. AND SCOUTMAN SAW THAT IT WAS ABOUT AS GOOD AS IT WAS GOING TO GET, AND SO HE HIT THE HAY PRETTY EARLY THAT NIGHT.

ON THE SEVENTH DAY, SCOUTMAN HAD A GREAT IDEA. "LET THERE BE OUTDOOR SKILLS!" HE SAID. AND SO, HE HAD A DOUBLE-DINGER: SCOUTCRAFT AND SIDNEY WINTER. SORT OF LIKE WAL-MART GREETERS, SIDNEY WINTER HAD THE DIFFICULT TASK OF TRYING TO EXPLAIN THE ZANY PLACE HE HAD INVENTED TO BAFFLED ELEVEN-YEAR-OLDS. TO SCOUTCRAFT, HE GAVE PRETTY MUCH THE COOLEST JOB: TO SPREAD THE WORD OF SCOUTMAN. COOKING, LASHING, FISHING AND ORIENTEERING WERE THE SKILLS OF WHICH DISCIPLES OF SCOUTMAN PRACTICED.

THE LOYAL ORDER OF SCOUTMAN, OR SCOUTCRAFT AS IT IS KNOWN TODAY, IS RUN BY FAITHFUL SERVANTS WHO PLEDGE THEIR LIVES TO AN OATH OF SCOUTCRAFTINESS. ABBOT BLAKELY USES HIS EMERGENCY PREPAREDNESS DRILLS TO SPREAD THE GOOD WORD OF SCOUTMAN. FATHER FLOUNDER IS A MERRY LITTLE MAN WHO ENJOYS FISHING AND MAKING UP STORIES ABOUT ORDER OF THE ARROW CALL-OUT NAMES. LASTLY, FRIAR WHITTIER SPENDS MOST OF HIS DAYS WEARING RIDICULOUS COSTUMES AND PRETENDING TO BE SOMEBODY ELSE, OR LAUNCHING FATHER FLOUNDER'S FISH FROM LASHED CATAPULTS.

AND ALTHOUGH IT TOOK ALL WEEK, SCOUTMAN FIGURED CAMP BARTON DIDN'T TURN OUT TOO BAD. AFTER ALL, ROME WON'T BE BUILT IN A DAY, EITHER.

SYDNEY WINTER

NOT SO LONG AGO, CAMP BARTON WAS TRAPPED IN CHAOS AND EVIL. THROUGH THIS MIRE, THERE IS ONE LIGHT; SIDNEY WINTER. WHERE THERE IS DARKNESS, SIDNEY WINTER IS THERE, TEACHING FIREMAN'S CHIT. WHERE THERE IS EVIL, SIDNEY WINTER IS THERE, LICENSING SMALL CHILDREN TO CARRY AXES LARGER THAN THEMSELVES. WHERE THERE IS CHAOS, CONFUSION, DISORDER, AND DISARRAY, SIDNEY WINTER IS THERE, WITH A STAFF EVEN MORE CONFUSED, CRAZY, DISORGANIZED, AND DESPAIRING.

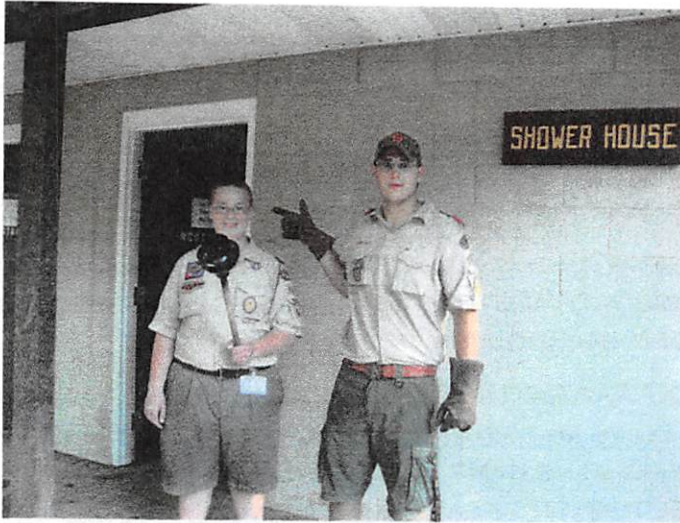

THESE NOBLE WARRIORS WERE HEADED BY NATE "WHEN THE HECK DID YOU GET SO TALL" MATTINGLY. THERE IS A RUMOR THAT HE HIMSELF HAD ONCE BEEN A STUDENT OF SIDNEY WINTER, BUT, AS HE IS OLDER THAN THE TREES, IT IS STILL UNCONFIRMED. AT HIS RIGHT HAND STOOD ALEX "WHERE'S ALEX" HAMULA. BORN IN A PACK OF WILD DOGS, ALEX IS A LOST AND CONFUSED CHILD WHO WANDERED INTO SIDNEY WINTER AND NEVER LEFT. RUNNING AND JUMPING SOMEWHERE BEHIND NATE WAS TOMMY "I CAN'T SEE YOU THROUGH MY HAIR" MURPHY, A HIGH-FLYIN', HAIR-SWINGIN', NINJA-KICKIN' KID WHO SPRINTED RIGHT OUT OF THE KNOTWEED AND RIGHT INTO SIDNEY WINTER.

THROUGHOUT THE SUMMER, THE SIDNEY WINTER STAFF AND SCOUTS COULD BE FOUND HEALING OTHERS, BATTLING THE SEAWEED MONSTERS, OR ACCIDENTALLY TYING NATE UP. BUT, DESPITE SMALL MISHAPS ALONG THE WAY, LIKE THE BEES GUARDING THE HIKING TRAILS, ALEX'S FATAL ATTRACTION TO PETTING DOGS, OR TOMMY'S ENDLESS BATTLE WITH THE ORIENTEERING COURSE, SIDNEY WINTER SUCCESSFULLY VANQUISHED THE ENEMY WITHOUT ANYONE, STAFF OR SCOUTS, SUSTAINING AN INJURY (YET!). WELL, THERE'S ALWAYS NEXT YEAR.

Quartermasters

This year as quartermaster. I, EJ have seen it all. Bleach bottles, trash cans, and plungers. When all was seeming blue, Captain KYBP came to the rescue. KYBO means Keep Your Bowls Open. A young lad during week four was very avid about cleaning the shower house, and when I was told what KYBO was, I died laughing. As the constant calls for paper towels and TP arose, the buildings of main camp are just as ominous. While everyones enjoyment is of free time and naps, mine occurred to be toilets and shovels and rolls of toilet paper galore. While my title is very wrong named, my job is completely mind boggling.

HEALTH LODGE

Gentlemen, START YOUR ENGINES!!! We did that during Staff Week.

The checkered flag dropped at the beginning of Week 1 and we were racing (sometimes almost literally) for the rest of the summer. The increased number of campers, a good thing for camp, created challenges just like any race does. You PREPARE then GO WITH the FLOW since nothing can completely prepare you for things that will happen when you put boys and sports equipment or sharp objects together.

This Race Team is THE BEST and it has been a pleasure to be part of it for 21years. I hope to see everyone next year.

Kathlene Gross

TRADING POST

ONCE UPON A TIME MIKEY THE INSANE, SAINT A STALKER, AND AMY THE GIRL GATHERED. WITH KIDS AND MONKEYS ALIKE SCREAMING WE HAVE DECIDED TO USE OUR POWERS COMBINED TOGETHER TO TAKE MONEY FROM UNSUSPECTING YOUTH. THE STALKER FOLLOWS THE SCOUTS TILL THEY HAVE NO MONEY LEFT. THE GIRL LURES THE SCOUTS INTO THE TRADING POST SO THEY CAN BUY EVERYTHING FOR HER, THE INSANE RUNS AROUND TELLING EVERYONE "NO", "STOP IT", AND "I'M GOING TO SMACK YOU UPSIDE THE HEAD WITH A PIXY STIX." THE INSANE ABLE TO LEAVE THE LITTLE BUILDING TO TEACH A MERIT BADGE, LEAVING THE STORE IN COMPLETE AND UTTER CHAOS. NEVER KNOWING WHAT WAS GOING TO BECOME OF THE STORE WHEN HE CAME BACK HE WAS READY. ALTHOUGH MUCH TO HIS SURPRISE THE GIRL USED HE SECONDARY POWER OF STRENGTH TO BEAT UP ON THE STALKER. THE STALKER ALSO HAD THE ABILITY OF "POOPING ON YOUR MAGIC DECK". IN THE LAST WEEK OF ALL THIS CHAOS WE CORRUPTED CONNER THE CHAOTIC. TOGETHER WE BROUGHT PURE DESTRUCTION AND DISORDER TO THE TRADING POST. LASTLY THE ENTIRE BUILDING OF WHICH WE RESIDE HAS FINALLY BEEN TAKEN OVER BY THE TRADING POST. MWHAAAAHA!!!!!! IT WAS A GOOD YEAR. :)
